From the sweat of their brows the desert blooms
And the forest before them falls
Their labor has builded humble homes
And cities with lofty halls
But the one owns cities and homes and lands
And the Ninety and Nine have empty hands,
And the Ninety and Nine have empty hands.

4

But the night so dreary and dark and long,
At last shall the morning bring,
And over the land the victors' song
Of the Ninety and Nine shall ring,
And echo afar from zone to zone,
Rejoice for Labor shall have its own,
Rejoice for Labor shall have its own.
